Eric Hoffmann and his staff at UXR has been the supplier of our equipment for our clinic from it's inception in 2015. The team at UXR go out of their way to back up their products and service with excellent communication. They have always been most helpful to assist when any problems have arisen and they have made certain that we are happy with each and every piece of equipment. The service provided by Eric and his crew has continually been excellent. They are always available if there is a problem and they answer my messages immediately.

Thank you Eric for taking such great care of us and our equipment needs.
